A youngster drawing a full grown snowman on a sled up North street Friday afternoon created considerable interest among passers by. The snow man had a derby hat chucked down on his white head, a veritable picture of ugliness and age combined. The boy, who couldn't have been more than seven years old, was tugging his burden over some of the bare spots, when someone asked him "where are you going with that gentleman snowman?" The urchin replied "I'm taking him to see grandmamma."

Bill is coming; Bill who? Well just watch for him. Guess? 4813

SHEETROCK

"The Fireproof Wallboard"

It stays put

After Sheetrock is nailed to the studs or joists, it stays put as long as the building stands. Sheetrock walls and ceilings can not warp; they can not shrink or buckle; and they are fireproof—because Sheetrock is made from rock. Whether you are planning on remodeling the old home or building a new one, you will certainly first want to inspect Sheetrock.

Misses Stella and Florence Ott have been appointed to the Star Division in Freshman English at the University of Illinois. Less than fifty from a class of 3188 are put in this division for excellence in Freshman English.

A Rhode Island Red hen at Ritter farm completed a tour of setting on 14 eggs for the requisite number of days on Tuesday and delivered 14 chicks. This is an even better record than made at this farm a couple of weeks ago.

During Mrs. Cunningham's recent visit in New York City, she attended an interesting gathering at the Misses Hoyt's, meeting there a number of old Manchester friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. George Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Speelman, daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Jessie England and Miss Burton, daughter. Mr. Burton was en route to his class reunion at Yale University.

The marriage of Charles C. Kinney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kinney of this village, and Miss Florence F. Abney of Chatham, Ontario, Canada, took place on Wednesday, February 15th in Albany. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Titus of the Methodist church of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Kinney came at once to Manchester and are keeping house in the apartment above Felt's shoe store. Mr. Kinney has recently become associated with O. G. Felt, his grandfather, in his shoe business in this village.

O. G. Felt, the veteran shoe dealer, royally entertained thirty of his friends in the village Saturday evening, Feb. 18th, at his store on Main street. Mr. Felt has just completed a large addition to his store and has refurnished the interior, preparatory to adding a large machine for shoe repairing, and wanted the "boys" to enjoy an evening with him before the machinery was installed. Cards occupied the evening, until nearly 11 o'clock, bid-whist and pedro being played at seven tables. At 11 o'clock a bountiful "feed" was spread and all did justice to the efforts of the ladies, who prepared the repast. A. E. Martin then took charge of the situation and called on several members present for remarks and on the village poet, Edward Gillette, for an appropriate poem. The host was the last speaker of the evening and it was after midnight when the party adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sanford formerly of this town, observed their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday at their home in Brookfield, Mass., where they have resided for the past twelve years. They were married in Manchester, February 22, 1872, at home of the bride's father, Harrison Hubbard, by the Rev. Parsons S. Pratt of Dorset. They have three daughters, Mrs. John A. Standard of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Charles G. Burbank of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Fred F. Wilson of Belows Falls; and one grandchild, Sanford Wilson, all of whom were with their parents on their anniversary. Mrs. Sanford is a sister of Mrs. Charles L. Randall of this village and an aunt of H. L. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford received fifty dollars in gold, besides numerous other gifts.

Jennie Simonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Simonds is recovering from a light case of scarletina.

Remember the supper and entertainment at the Congregational church next Tuesday evening, March 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson and children of Mechanville are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Mattison.

The mid-week prayer service of the Congregational and Baptist churches will be a union service this week at the Methodist church, and will be held on Wednesday evening.

The play entitled "The Call of Wahoo," which was given by the Wabasse Camp Fire girls, was a success. They were greeted by a large audience and cleared about $35.00.

The fourth of a series of entertainments will be held at the Masonic Temple, North Bennington, March 6. Supper at 6:30 p. m. The speakers will be John Spargo and Frank E. Howe.

Herbert Turner, oldest son of Mrs. T. F. Turner, is making a satisfactory recovery from a serious operation for the removal of a mastoid abscess. The operation was performed in New York and he is now at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. J. S. McCullough in that city.

Miss Dorothy Dorrance, who has months at the Putnam Memorial hospital from a broken ankle, returned this week to her home with Mrs. A. S. Hathaway. Miss Dorrance is the domestic science and chemistry teacher in the junior-senior high school.

Services at the M. E. church Sunday, March 5, are as follows:—Sunday school at 2 p. m.; preaching service will speak on "The Tranquility of Life." The mid-week prayer service on Wednesday evening will be a union meeting with the Baptist and Congregationalists. Please note the night Wednesday instead of Thursday.

Morning worship at the Congregational church Sunday, March 5, at 11 o'clock. The theme of the sermon will be "The Gospel According to the book of Jonah." This service is to be followed by the reception of new members, communion and Sunday school. Young People's meeting at 6 o'clock, topic, "Better Bible Reading." Congregationalists are reminded of the citizenship meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the Baptist church at 7 o'clock.

The Rev. Waldo De Wolfe, pastor of the Baptist church, will speak on "Consecration" at the morning service, Sunday, March 5, at 11 o'clock. Miss Dora Clark, County Red Cross nurse who is expected to be present, will give some interesting information regarding the vocation of nursing. The service will take the form of the church observance of the fact that two of the young women members, Miss Mildred Hathaway and Miss Lilian Mattison, are to leave soon to take up nurses' training.

A large attendance is hoped for at the Christian citizenship meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, March 5 at 7 o'clock. This is an annual affair and for several years has been in charge of Mrs. M. P. Endress, which fact alone should insure a large and appreciative audience, as her faculty of arranging an interesting program is well known. Mrs. Endress devotes a large amount of time and work to this meeting, and coming as it does, just previous to the March town meeting, it always brings to light facts well worth pondering by the voter. This is the only meeting during this year to which the men are invited, and they can not fail to be interested in the subject of "Law Enforcement." A prize of a five dollar gold piece is to be awarded to the high school pupil producing the best essay on the subject, and the winning essay will be read at the meeting. Everybody come.
